Togrative pill which could be relied on as sare and perfectly safe in its operation. This has been prepared to meet that demand, and an extensive trial of its virtues has conclusively shown with what success it accomplishes the purpose designed. It is easy to make a physical Pitt, but not easy to make the best of all Pittls—one which should have mone of the objections, but all the advantages, of every other. This has been attempted here, and with what success we would respectfully submit to the public decision. It has been unfortunate for the patient hithers that almost every purguifive medicine is acrimonlous and irritating to the bowels. This is not. Many of them produce so much griping pain and revulsion in the system as to more than counterbalance the good to be derived from them. These ritus produce no irritation or pain unless it arise from a previously existing obstruction or derangement in the bowels. Being purely vergetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity; but it is better that any medicine should be aken judiciously. Minute directions for their use in the several diseases to which they are applicable are given on the box. Among the complaints which have been specifily cured by them we may mention, Liver Complaint, in its various forms of Jaundice, Indigestion, Languor and box of Appetite, Listlessness, Irritability, Billous Headuche, Billous Fever, Fever and Ague, Pain in the Side and Loina; for, in truth, all these are but the consequence of diseased action in the liver. As an aperiout, they afford prompt and sure relief in Costiveness, Piles, Coic, hysentery, Humors, Scrofula and Scurry, Colds, with screeness of the body, Ulcers, and impority of the blood; in short, any and every case where a purgative is required.

They have also produced some singularly successful cures in Kheumatism, Goat, Propsy, Gravel, Krysipelas, Pulpitation of the Heart, Pains in the Back, Stomach and Side.—They should be freely taken in the spring of the year, to partity the blood and prepare the system fo

ASTEMA AND CONSUMPTION. This remedy has won for itself such notoriety for its cures of every variety of Pulmonary disease, that it is entirely unnecessary to recount the evidences of its virtues in any community where it has been employed. So wide is the field of its necluless, and so numerous the cases of its cires, that almost every section of the country abounds in serson, publicly known, who have been restored from ainming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary org us which are incident to our climate. And not only in formidable attacks upon the lungs, but for the milder varieties of COLDS, G. UGHS, HOARSENESS, &c.; and for CHIL-BERN it is the pleasantest and safest medicine that can be obtained. As it has been long in constant use throughout this sec-lion, we need not do more than assure the people that its quality is kept up to the best that it has ever been, and that the genuine article is sold at wholesate by
